*To behold a whole new day aborning.
To heed the call of dawn's creation.
To peer inward and see soul.
To gaze outward and see hope.
To feel new meaning in the life you know.
To wonder at the life you are about to know.
To quest for who you are and what you are to be.
To find purpose in being.
To sense challenge in becoming.
To imagine yourself a star in the heavens.
To approach the unknown and ask why.
To confront the unknowable and ask why not.
To see adventure in flights transitory.
To see eternity in truths immutable.
To reach.
To touch.
To know.*

*To rejoice at the rise of the sun.
To seek light where there is dark.
To seek peace where there is strife.
To embrace dear values.
To value dear embraces.
To seize the present.
To chart the future.
To find summer in winter, sun in rain.
To accept your place in today.
To assert your place in tomorrow.
To love to live.
To live to love.
To laugh.
To cry.
To be.
To become.*

*How do I feel by the end of the day
Are you sad because you're on your own
No I get by with a little help from my friends*

LAST WORD

by Carol Mithers

*There is so much knowledge floating around my place of learning
I can't possibly drink it all. But they are holding my mouth to a glass
And pouring out the wine so fast that I choke
And I don't even swallow very often.*

Smile

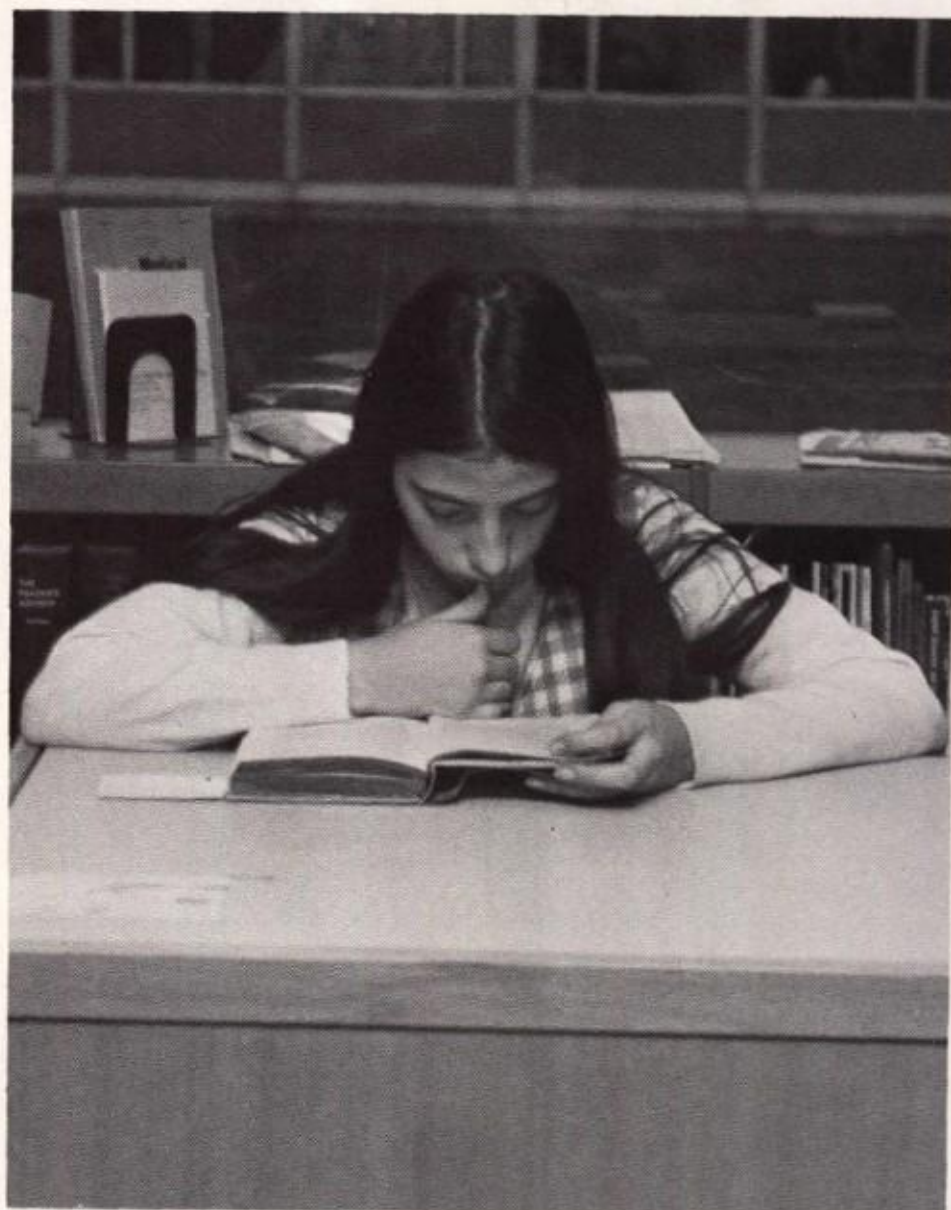

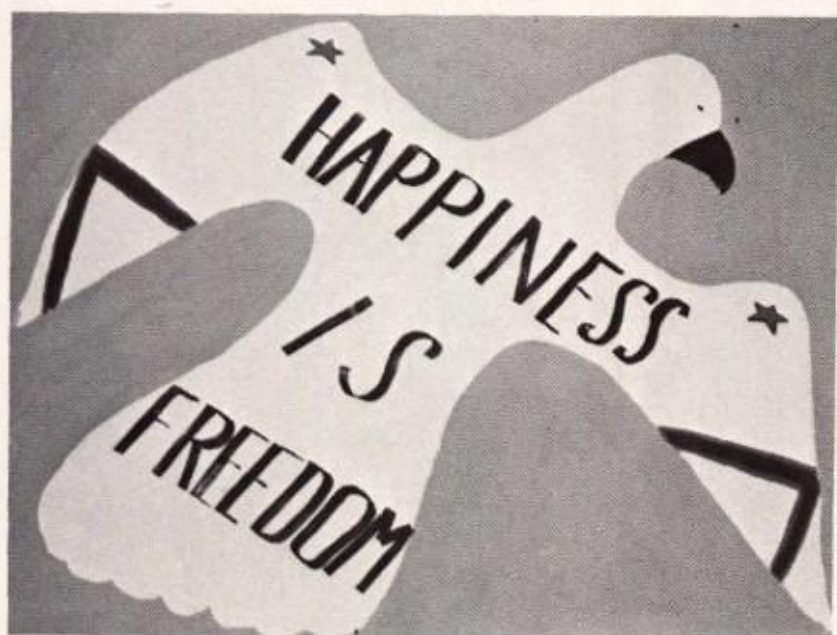

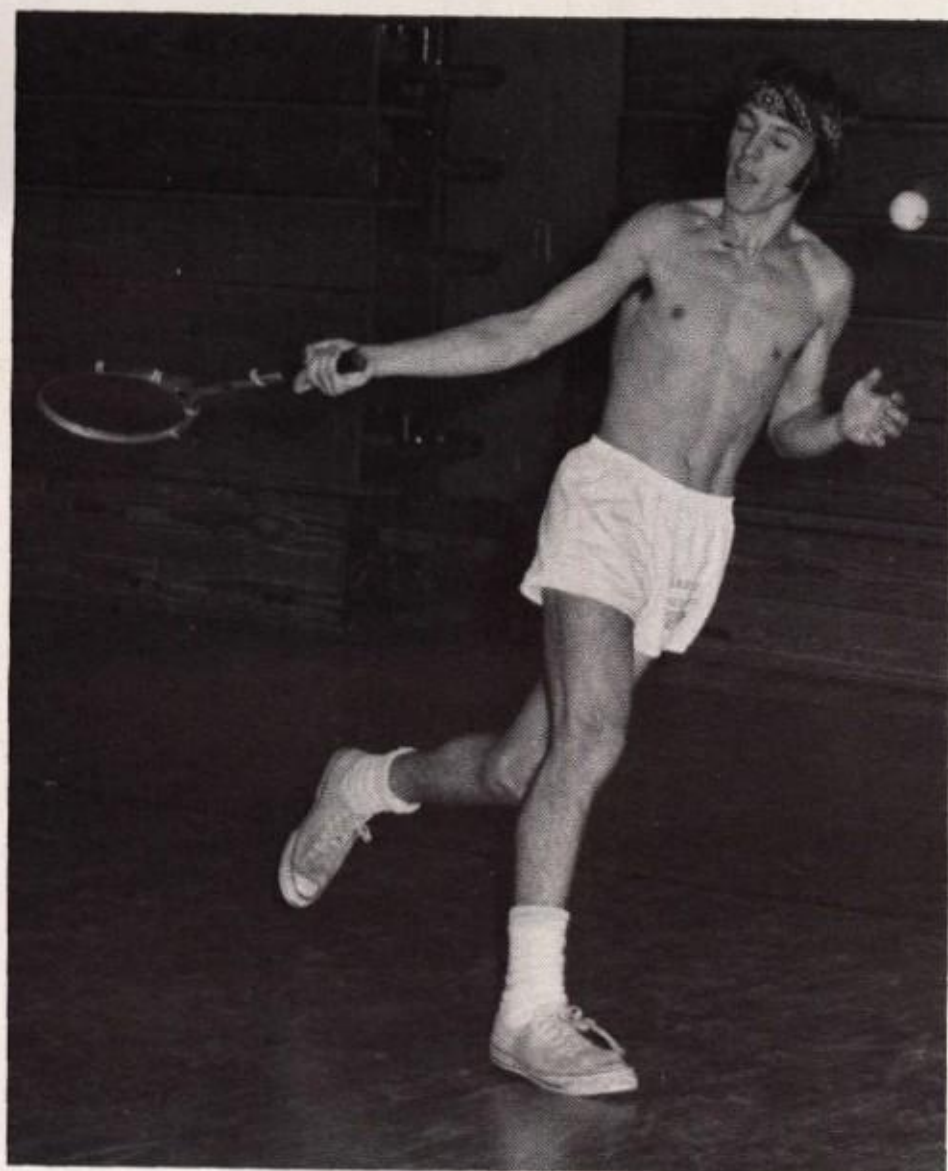

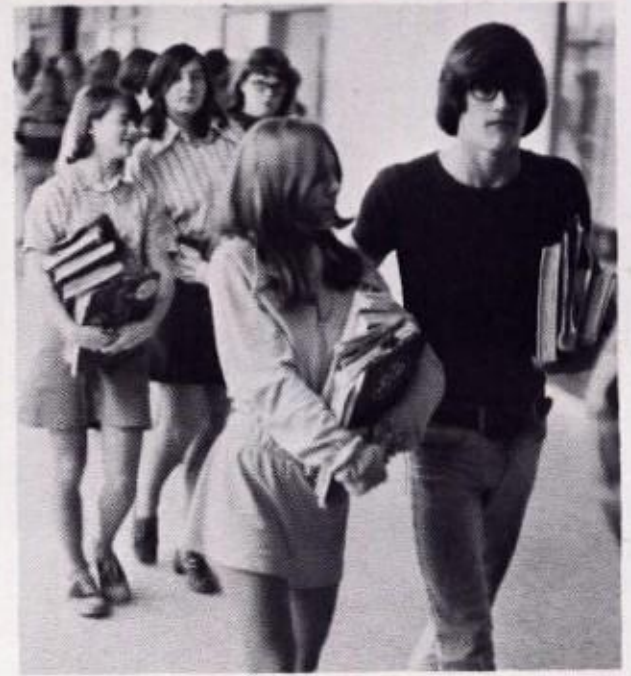

*Don't walk in front of me.
I may not follow.*

*Don't walk behind me.
I may not lead.*

Walk beside me and just be my friend.

Camus

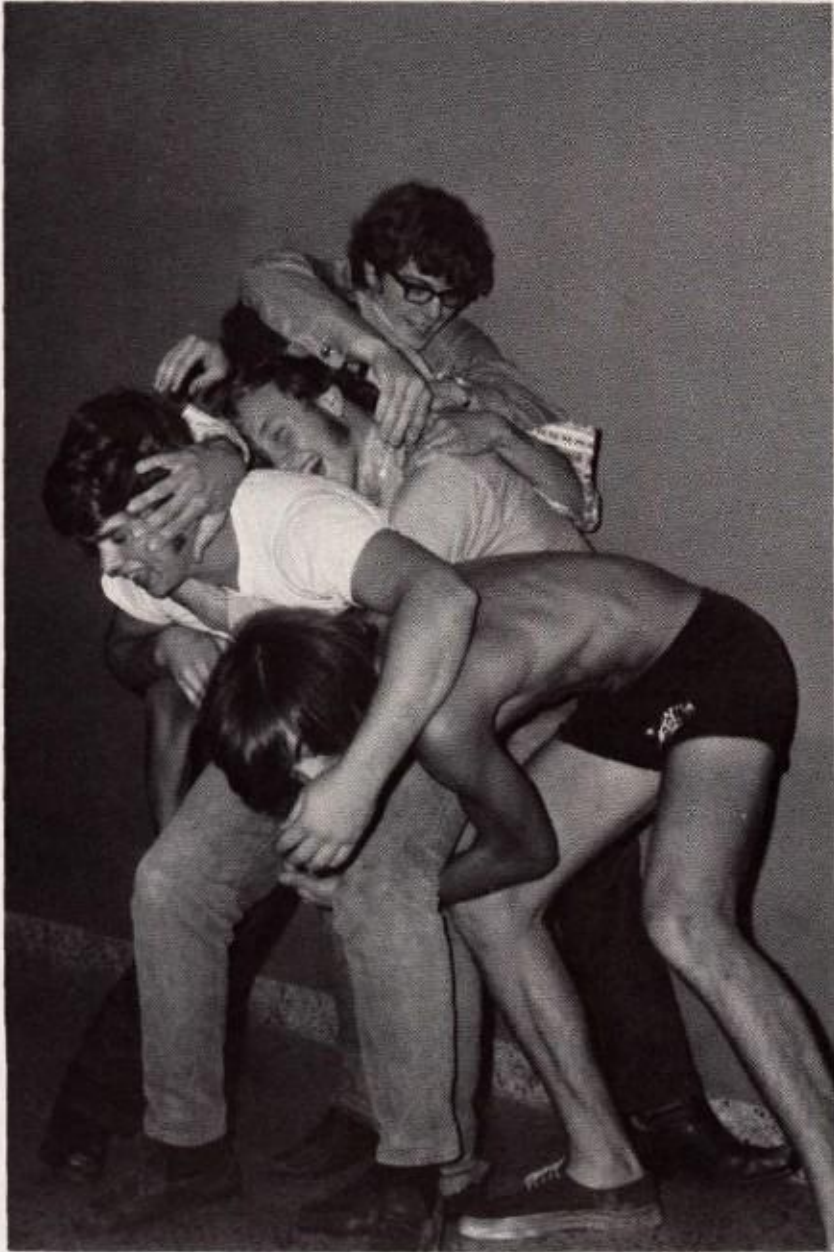

THE SKEPTIC

by Ruby Luse

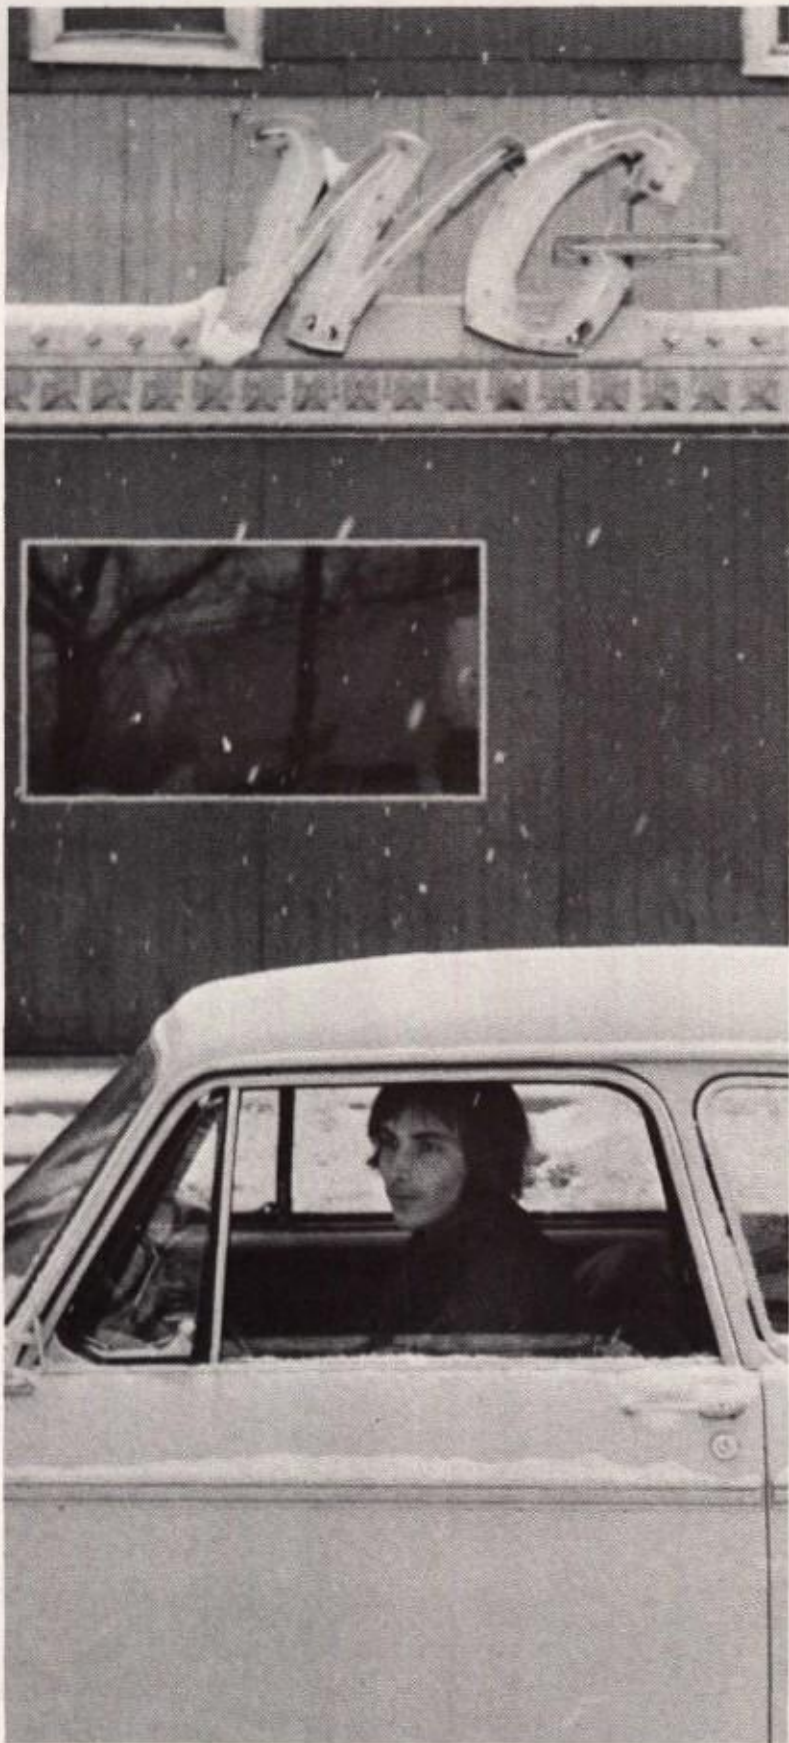

*Don't look;
You might see.
Don't think;
You might learn.
Don't walk;
You might stumble.
Don't run;
You might fall.
Don't try;
You might fail.
Don't live;
You might die.*

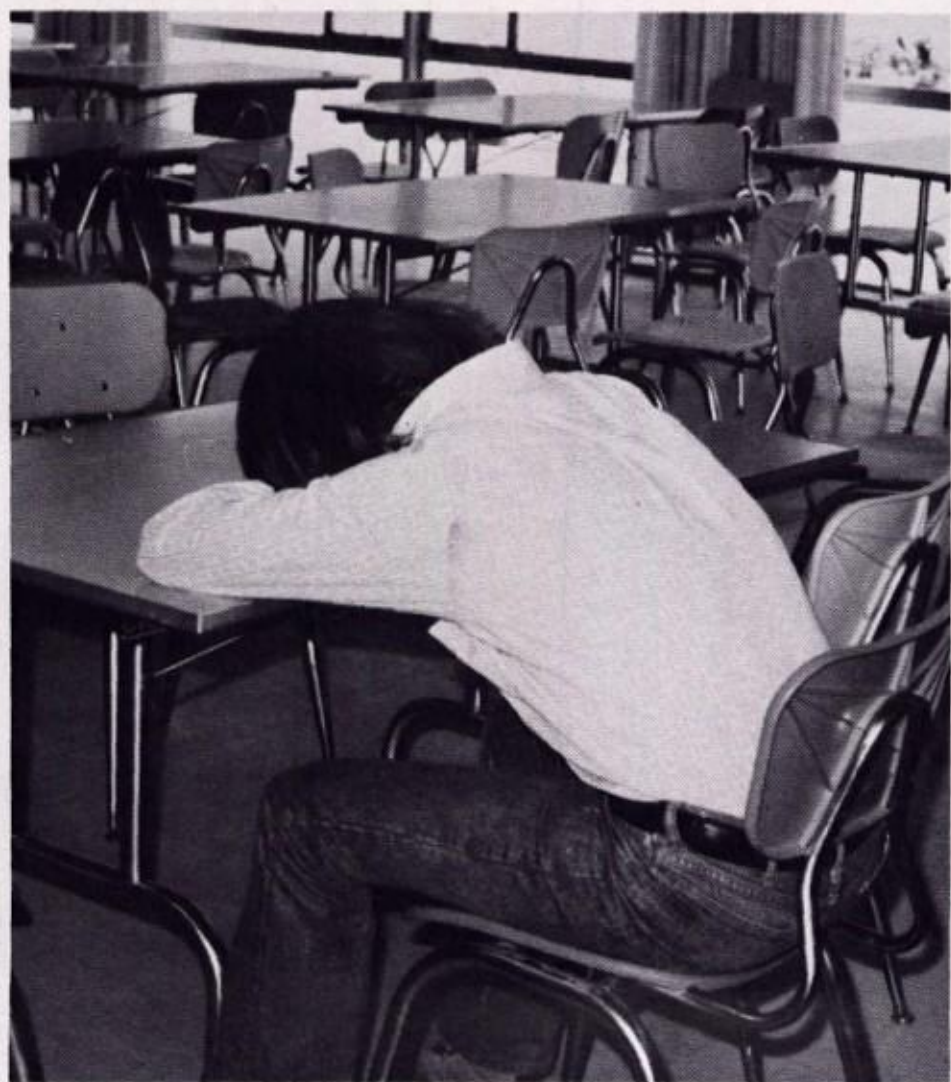

*If you want to walk by me,
 do so.
 Linger on and I am gone
 I can't stay.
 I am the wind, the breeze, the tempest—
 the very breath of life.
 So catch me only if you can,
 for I am gone.*

SR.
AND UNDERCLASSMEN

. . . So you're a Freshman . . . all alone in this big school and just the tiniest bit afraid of everything that happens. You are anxious to be someone. You spend the first few days searching madly for your classes, clutching your books and meekly "helloing" all upperclassmen and teachers.

. . . So you're a Sophomore . . . all alone in this big school and still just the tiniest bit afraid of everything that happens. You are anxious to be someone. You spend the first few days searching for your classes (no madness about it), clutching your books and loudly "helloing" all upperclassmen and teachers.

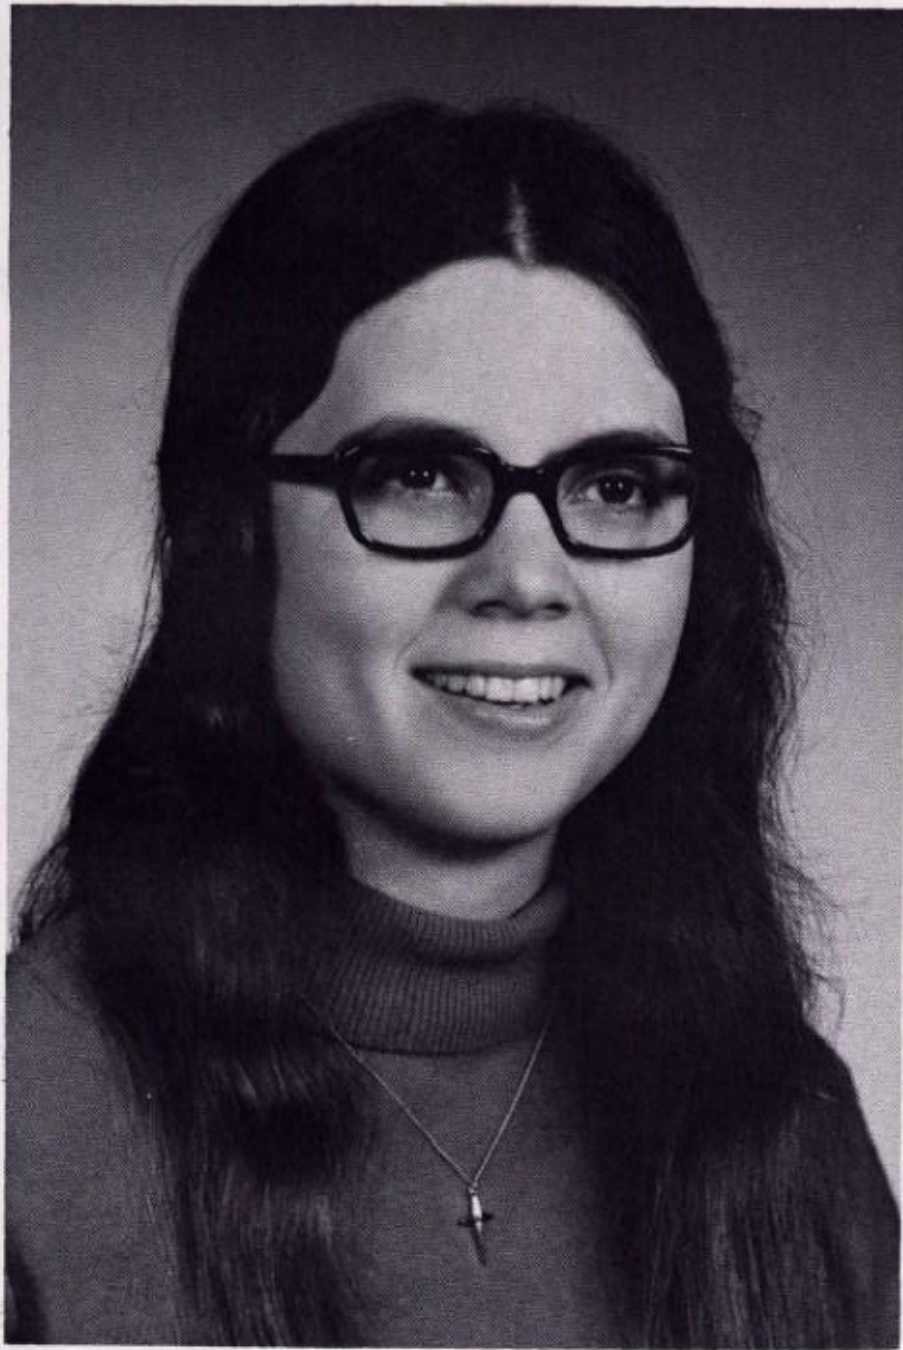

. . . So you're a Junior . . . all alone in this big school and slowly losing interest in everything that happens. You don't really want to be someone. You spend the first few days "helloing" teachers.

. . . So you're a Senior . . . no longer alone in this big school and not afraid of anything that happens. You are someone. They spend the first few days searching madly for you (giving up in utter desperation) and you clutch your books, stomp into studyhall "helloing" no one. You made it, kid, you made it.

It is not the critic who counts, not the man who points out how the strong man stumbled, or where the doer of deeds could have done them better. The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena; whose face is marred by the dust and sweat and blood; who strives valiantly; who errs and comes short again and again . . . who knows the great enthusiasms, the great devotions and spends himself in a worthy cause; who, at the best, knows in the end the triumph of high achievements; and who at the worst, if he fails, at least fails while daring greatly, so that his place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who know neither victory nor defeat.

Theodore Roosevelt
